General Information

El Taj Mahal es considerado el más bello ejemplo de arquitectura mogola, estilo que combina elementos de las arquitecturas islámica,¹ persa,² india e incluso turca.³ Este monumento ha logrado especial notoriedad por el carácter romántico de su inspiración. Aunque el mausoleo cubierto por la cúpula de mármol blanco es la parte más conocida, el Taj Mahal es un conjunto amurallado de edificios que ocupa 17 hectáreas y que también incluye una gran mezquita, una casa de invitados y jardines. El monumento es un importante destino turístico de la India. Más información en la web de Sociedad Geográfica de las Indias
